German Paper Ignores Roosevelt's Expression Of "Shock" At Persecutions

(International News Service)
BERLIN, Nov. 17.—German press attacks against President Roosevelt strengthened belief today that Chancellor Hitler may personally reply to the American chief executive's statement regarding Germany.

The Fuehrer went to Düsseldorf to attend the funeral of Ernst von Rath, secretary of the German Embassy in Paris who was slain by a Polish Jew.

Hitler's own newspaper, Völkischer Beobachter, ridiculed Roosevelt's remarks regarding American preparations to defend the western hemisphere.

Attack Rearmament Plans
Completely ignoring the president's expression of "shock" respecting the Reich's anti-Jewish and anti-Catholic measures, the paper published the president's statement on rearmament under this headline:

Reports reaching here claim indications are bright for the improving of the Erie Run. It was urged following a flood in which considerable damage was done. South Siders will welcome the project.

There now are more miles of paved street than dirt street here according to the city engineer. People paid for the materials used to pave the streets, which cut down on the cost of keeping up dirt streets.

When there is a lack of employment and a lack of money which is brought from work there is not much police activity according to a veteran policeman who said today that money means action.

Reports at the city engineer's office today said paving of Hillcrest avenue between Albert street and North Mercer street would be completed within the near future.

It's getting around the time of year when there is considerable planning for Thanksgiving. Local citizens, whose parents live in other places, are hoping to spend the day out of town, while many former residents will come back to New Castle to eat turkey with the home folks. Seek To Facilitate Emigration Of Jews

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent
LONDON, Nov. 17.—Plans to facilitate emigration of Jews from Germany took a major stride forward today after the British government submitted a far-reaching proposal to the United States for joint action aimed at resettlement of the Reich's Jews in other parts of the world.

Through diplomatic channels, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain informed President Roosevelt that Britain is prepared to contribute territory and finances to the plan, which may involve a cost of some $250,000,000.

Chamberlain also asked the United States for extensive cooperation and financial aid in evacuating the Jews from Germany, where Nazi anti-semitic measures brought a scathing statement of denunciation from the American chief executive.

According to the London Daily Express, the United States may be asked to contribute $150,000,000 or $200,000,000.

While Britain is prepared to supply land in certain portions of her empire, particularly in her colonies, officials here do not believe the United States is in a position to increase the present quota of 25,000 immigrants from Germany annually, which already is filled a year in advance.

Entertainment Concludes Sixty-Third Reunion Of New Castle Consistory

VARIED PROGRAM IS PRESENTED

As a fitting climax, the 63rd reunion of the Valley of New Castle Consistory, A. A. S. R., was brought to a close with a family dinner party in The Cathedral last evening, when a splendid program of entertainment was presented.

Around 800 were present for the dinner which was entertained with group singing under the leadership of Emory Davis of Mercer, with Judy Sypher at the piano.

The crowd was swelled by others for the entertainment in the auditorium, when a group of talented artists from the Pittsburgh district presented an exceptionally fine program. The artists included Edward Griffith, harpist; Helen Bell Rush, soprano; Arthur Davis, tenor, accompanied by William A. Reiser at the piano.

Ollie O'Toole, comedian, kept the crowd in an uproar with his imitations of famous radio personalities, and a sketch of his own, featuring the voice of a child.

Woodring, also a Legion leader, will resign the cabinet post within the next few days and the appointment of Johnson, whose home is in West Virginia, will be announced immediately, according to Legion leaders.

Johnson was expected to arrive today for the committee's meeting. He was elected Legion commander in 1932 and now is assistant secretary of war.

He is J. Monroe Johnson, of South Carolina, who has been active in affairs of the veterans' organization for many years. Johnson now is assistant secretary of commerce, but will not climb a step in the event of the expected resignation of Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper, according to reports here.

Legionnaires said Roper's post will go to Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, as was reported by International News Service several days ago. Whether Monroe Johnson would retain his post as assistant if Hopkins is elevated to the cabinet, was discussed freely by the leaders of the Legion.

Mayor Frank Hague Also Comes In For Censure At C. I. O. Convention

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.—The C. I. O. convention today hissed and booed the name of Rep. Martin Dies, "D" Texas, chairman of the house committee investigating un-American activities, and proceeded to adoption of a series of resolutions demanding protection of civil rights and strike breaking.

Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City came in for censure also, and delegates cheered a speaker who branded him as a "dictator" before they adopted a resolution demanding that the federal government cut off all financial assistance to states in which workers' rights are violated.

J. E. Crossland, chairman of the C. I. O. industrial union council of Texas, led the demonstration against Dies, and said that Texas was "ashamed of this man and apologizes for him."

Crossland did not ask the convention to go on record against Dies in a resolution.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Postmaster James A. Farley, one of the best liked men in public life, is planning to resign as a member of President Roosevelt's cabinet to go into private business.

He was today giving serious consideration to half a dozen wood offers from business concerns.

There is little likelihood, however, that he will quit his $15,000-a-year job as postmaster general before the first of the year.

Farley made more than $15,000 a year before he entered the cabinet, and it was learned from a thoroughly reliable source, he now feels he owes it to himself and his family to step out and earn more money.

Representatives Of Three Governments Will Sign New Trade Treaty Today

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Uniting sweeping tariff reductions for agricultural and industrial products with its two largest customers, the United States today successfully concluded negotiations for reciprocal trade treaties with Great Britain and Canada.

The agreements were hailed as a far-reaching economic and political importance to the Democratic bloc of nations in combating Nazi and Fascist totalitarianism.

Negotiations completed after a year of bargaining, all that remained to be done was for officials of the three governments to affix their signatures to the treaties.

This was to be accomplished and elaborate ceremony in the east room of the White House at 4 p. m. this afternoon.

Until the documents are signed this afternoon, the state department withheld under official seal all details of the tariff reductions and concessions granted by each country on approximately 1,000 products.

International News Service is able to disclose exclusively, however, that the United States has gained widespread trade advantages over other foreign countries, and has persuaded the united kingdom to accord to many principal American exports the same treatment given to those of the British dominions and commonwealths.

The Canadian treaty replaces the one in effect for the past two years and is similar in most respects. The base has been broadened and the scope of the treaty made more comprehensive.

DUSSELDORF, Germany, Nov. 17.—Nazi Germany's newest hero, Ernst Von Rath went to his grave today amid resounding calls to Germans abroad to do their duty for a Reich which is marching "on its way."

In the presence of Chancellor Hitler Jews were castigated as "murderers" and "liars" by foreign ministers Joachim von Ribbentrop in a eulogy to the young Paris embassy secretary, whose death at the hands of a Polish Jew made him a Nazi martyr.

"Neither calumnies nor terror can ever return Germany to serfdom," Von Ribbentrop proclaimed. "The Reich is on its way."

Governor Earle Is Also To Give Testimony Before House Probers

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—Secretary of Highways Roy E. Brownmiller today denied charges that he had entered into an alleged conspiracy on the purchase of highway trucks whereby companies getting the business would "kickback" $50,000 to the Democratic state committee.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—Secretary of Highways Roy E. Brownmiller was called today to testify before the house graft investigating committee, the second in a parade of cabinet witnesses that began with Arthur Colgrove.

He was to be followed by either Secretary of Labor and Industry Ralph M. Baskore or Judge Harry E. Kaldner both also among the 14 accused Democrats, the order depending upon Baskore's preparation with important material.

Chairman Herbert B. Cohen, York Democrat presiding over the hearing, said that the federal judge, Gov. George H. Earle's secretary in 1935 and later himself a cabinet officer, was ready to testify if Baskore was delayed.

Aims At Margiotti
Colgrove, former property and supplies secretary and now a public utility commissioner, climaxed his testimony with a charge that former Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti proposed a "vindictive" setup for obtaining "kickback" political contributions from state authority architects. Margiotti is the principal sponsor of the accusations under consideration.

Highly critical of Colgrove's second call day as witness before the house graft investigating committee, the charge became the second counter-accusation to be started at Harrisburg by the public utility commissioner.

Colgrove was secretary of property and supplies in Gov. George H. Earle's cabinet until recently. The governor himself is to be called, having requested committee permission to testify in his own behalf. In all 14 Democrats are accused of conspiracy.

MAKE PLANS FOR BETTER DISTRICT

There were over 100 residents of Union township who are interested in the betterment of the community present at a booster meeting Wednesday evening in the township high school building, Scotland Lane.

J. H. Ellsworth, secretary-treasurer for the road supervisors, served as temporary chairman and opened the meeting. He called upon Walter Keeler, auditor for the township, to take charge of the meeting.

He stated that the main aim of this club will be to work for the betterment of the community. Keeler told of the many improvements needed in the area and asked that suggestions regarding the matters be given by the residents.

Representatives from all of the township areas were called upon to voice their opinions, and some good suggestions were made.

Committee Named
A motion was made that a civic committee be named for the purpose of working out plans for the betterment of the Civic club. Keeler selected the following for the committee:

Clarence W. Badger, Floyd McConnell, Bernard Flynn, Charles W. Clark, Edward Crutcher, J. W. Patterson, Professor R. G. Leslie, Paul Allen, Francis A. Puckerton, Eugene Hill, J. W. Shiner, W. J. Reck, E. S. Hanna, Jay G. Rudolph, J. C. Perkins and Pete Gerlach.

WILSON IN PARIS ENROUTE HOME FROM POST IN GERMANY

(International News Service)
PARIS, Nov. 17.—Hugh Wilson, American ambassador to Berlin, arrived here today enroute to the United States for consultations on the Reich's anti-Jewish and anti-Catholic measures with President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Wilson observed: "I have nothing to say until I reach Washington."

He is scheduled to rail from Harrisburg today aboard the liner Manhattan.

He has a sled on the cellar wall, a sled that is trim and red, and he's looked at it longingly every day as the autumnal days have passed. He wonders if ever again there'll be snow, if ever the sled will be good, and if I could call some snow from the air you can bet that I surely would. But he'll have to wait till the weather men decide that it's time for snow, and when that will be I can hardly say. I confess that I do not know. But as for me this weather is cruel, but don't let him hear you say that snow is not what we ought to have, it's cool forty three today.

Control Of State Senate Doubtful

Republicans May Have Advantage

Balance Of Power In New Body May Rest With Senator Heyburn

DELAWARE DEMOCRAT SHOWS INDEPENDENCE

By RAYMOND WILCOVE

International News Service Staff

HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—Democrats today were threatened with loss of voting control in the 1939 Pennsylvania senate with the revelation that they are assured of the support of but 25 of the 26 Democrats making up the new senate majority.

The new senate house is overwhelmingly Republican. The Democrats hold a nominal out-vote majority in the 1939 senate.

Sen. Weidner Heyburn, Delaware Democrat, did not seem a "round robin" to which the rest of his Democratic colleagues appended their signatures just before the senate recessed yesterday. It was disclosed that the signing of the round robin was a pledge to vote with the Democratic majority in organizing the senate when the new legislature convenes on January 3.

Kicks Over Traces

Senator Heyburn was elected in 1936 as a registered Republican after being defeated in the Republican primary by the late Sen. John J. McChesney. He replaced the Democratic nominee, C. F. Hoffmann, who withdrew. Heyburn has since frequently kicked over the traces when it came to voting for Democratic measures, casting his vote with the G.O.P.

The defection of Senator Heyburn would not necessarily give the Democrats sufficient votes to organize the senate and elect the all-important president pro tempore. Heyburn's defection did result in a 25-25 tie and the deciding vote would then be cast by Democratic Lt. Gov. Thomas Kennedy, presiding officer of the senate.

Once organization of the senate is out of the way, however, Republicans would hold voting control of that chamber in the event Heyburn reverted to his Republican leanings and deserted the Democrats. After organizing the legislature adjourns until January 17, at which time Lt. Gov. Kennedy will be replaced by the new lieutenant-governor, Samuel S. Lewis, a Republican, and he will cast the deciding Republican vote in the event of a deadlock.

HITLER MAY MAKE REPLY TO ROOSEVELT

"Roosevelt's fantasies about alleged threats to the Americas and his casting of suspicion on other powers is serving the United States in its rearmament propaganda."

The newspaper, Lokalanzeiger, headlined the phrase "Roosevelt's lust for power," charged the president with seeking to realize his aims by strengthening his own position "after his recent election defeat."

The paper added in its editorial: "Assail Purpose

"President Roosevelt seems to appreciate the use of any means further to increase American armaments. Even the Jewish problem has to serve for that.

"In connection with the question of Jewish persecution the president has made statements which in the light of the Jewish problem have been shown to be anything but sound and military hegemony by the United States over the entire American continent."

Local Anzeiger said the forthcoming Pan-American conference at Lima, Peru, would test the president's policy, asserting: "There are definite signs in South America that the North American talk about alleged attacks by foreign powers on South America are disbelieved and that the South American countries are recognizing the imperialistic desires of Washington, camouflaged behind that propaganda."

"Empire Preferences" Ended

The agreement with the United Kingdom, which the death knell of the "empire preferences" under which the United States suffered severe trade losses.

Involved in the pact are approximately 40 per cent of the entire world's trade and 60 per cent of America's foreign commerce.

The principal American beneficiaries under the key pact with the United Kingdom are: The automobile industry, wheat and livestock producers, the lumber industry and fruit growers.

Substantial concessions have been granted to the United States on automobiles and parts, fresh and dried fruits, wheat meal and flour, oil, lard, hams, women's shoes and clothing and on certain types of electrical machinery, among many other items.

Chief concessions gained by the British included tariff reductions on woolen goods, leather goods, especially men's shoes and boots, worsteds, linens, cotton laces, velvets and velveteens, unmanufactured flax, pickled sauerkraut, handkerchiefs, jute, undressed furs and specialized steel products.

One of the principal American gains, it was reported, is preferential treatment of American automobiles over motor cars manufactured in Europe.

There is not a case of contagious disease in the county, according to County Health Officer, Frank Stevens. The last case was one of scarlet fever, near Ellwood City. Mr. Stevens was down yesterday and removed the card, the patient having recovered. Usually, at this season of the year, many children are afflicted with measles and mumps, but there have been no outbreaks so far. The past summer has also been a very healthy one, according to Mr. Stevens. At no time were there more than three or four contagious diseases in the county. This speaks well for the health department.

If reports regarding the multiplicity of deer this year are true, it won't be such a great honor for a hunter to come home with a deer on the running board of his car when the season opens. Deer have been seen in several parts of Lawrence county, as well as in adjoining counties, while up in the deer country they are said to be loafing around waiting to be shot. The honor this year will go to the hunter who can lasso a deer and bring it back alive.

Some foxy bee keepers up at Penn-broke, N. Y., are shipping out million bees to Canada, where the queens are expected to make a hit with the southern workers. Last year some 300 colonies were sent south and 1,500 colonies were brought back. The bees are kept right on the job, the year round, working in the south in winter and in the north in summer. It's a honey of an idea. All the owners have to do is to provide the transportation.

New Castle doesn't have any automobile show like they have in New York and Pittsburgh, but our local dealers have practically all of the latest models, which can be seen right here at home. Each year one wonders how automobiles could possibly be made any better, but every season new models come out with changes in the mechanism and hood lines. Just goes to show what can be done by scientific breeding.

There don't seem to have been any election bets this year. At least Pa. News hasn't seen any wheeling anyone in a wheelbarrow, or pushing a peanut up Washington street with his nose. Voters on both sides seemed to be so uncertain this year that they didn't even bet nickel cigs.

Some cobs of corn had been attached by small platforms, attached to a couple of trees, on North Crawford avenue, for the benefit of the squirrels that frequent that neighborhood. Wednesday afternoon, some sparrows were stripping the corn, and had it scattered around the base of the trees, and they were having a big time working among the grains.

This morning, a horse transportation truck containing three racehorses, the property of the Breyer Stock Farm of Butler, passed through the city on its way to Butler. One side of the truck was butted, and on investigation it was found that the truck had been forced off the road by a semi-tractor at 3 o'clock this morning. One of the horses was injured, but it is believed he will recover. The horses were purchased in Indianapolis.

in Miss Zehner's life since she finished her public schooling. She studied first at Mt. Union College, Conservatory in Alliance, O., then in piano at Chautauque, N. Y., two years in the Chicago Musical College where she won her B.M. degree, and still not satisfied with her training she studied piano in Cleveland under William B. Colson and Pauline Campbell, and organ under Edwin Arthur Kraft of Cleveland, and Arthur B. Jennings of Pittsburgh. She did further organ work two years ago in Boston, Mass., under the direction of Joseph Bonnet of Paris. One summer was devoted to the Westminster Choir School summer session in Silver Bay, Lake George.

Miss Zehner is a member of the American Guild of Organists, and the Ohio Music Teachers' Association. For the past 14 years she has been organist of the Third Lutheran church of Ashland, and for most of that time she has also given singing lessons. She has served as private organist for Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Miller of that community, appeared in recitals in Ohio, Pittsburgh and St. Petersburg, and still found time to take an active part in music club work at Ashland, and organize Ashland's Junior Musicians club for young people.

HITLER ATTENDS VON RATH RITES

"murder last" and "dirty games" of Jews and ordered Germans outside the Reich to serve the community which "we established outside Germany as we did within."

Although Hitler attended the ceremonies in the Reich, where Von Rath's body lay in state, he failed to deliver an expected oration. Previously it had been anticipated he might reply to President Roosevelt's statement on Germany's anti-Jewish and anti-Catholic measures.

The Chancellor left the hall immediately after eulogies to the slain diplomat were completed.

Arrived in a brown uniform, Hitler entered the hall, saluted Von Rath's coffin and then took his place while the entire audience bowed their heads.

Immediately thereafter, Wilhelm Bohle, chief of the Nazi foreign organization, eulogized Von Rath as a German who sacrificed his life on foreign soil.

PLAN TO CELEBRATE OPENING OF ROAD

O., with a group of eastern Ohio road advocates, came into western Pennsylvania and secured the co-operation of good roads enthusiasts in Lawrence, Butler, Armstrong and Indiana Counties towards getting the highway hard topped.

Gradually pieces were filled in both in Pennsylvania and Ohio. The one remaining piece to be improved between New York and Chicago was that between Edinburg and the Ohio line. This was not improved but for some reason the improvement was held up until certain other things had been done. Over a year ago the state highway department announced it was ready to improve the section and a contract was let in the summer.

The plans for the opening of this road are purely tentative. However, Mr. Shaw's idea is that to hold a formal dedication somewhere between Edinburg and the Ohio line, have a little boy and a little girl, a ribbon snipping ceremony and have short speeches from representatives of various organizations. Among them would be the State Highway Department, the county commissioners, the city officials, the limestone companies in the district, the roadway, the New Castle Motor Club and the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, the Benjamin Franklin Highway Association, and any other organizations which have had anything to do with the highway.

Probably Dinner

Following the celebration on the highway it is tentatively planned to hold a dinner in the Castleton Hotel where again there would be some speeches. Plans for both ends of the celebration will be worked out within the next few days and announcements made.

It is hoped that Butler, Armstrong and Indiana Counties will join with other officials of the association and Lawrence County in the opening as men in the various Ohio counties who have been interested for some years.

MRS. T. M. SHAFFER DEPARTMENT HOSTESS

Conservation and Gardens Department, of the Woman's club, had a delightful meeting Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. T. M. Shaffer, Euclid avenue. Twenty-six members and guests were present and responded to roll call with items of interest along the line of conservation work. Mrs. William Cosel, secretary, conducted the roll call.

Mrs. C. Lee Mellinger, chairman of the department, conducted the meeting and the program for the day was presented as follows: A soprano solo, "The Suwannee River," (Stephen Foster), was given by Mrs. Ben Agnew accompanied by Miss Lena Richards. Mrs. R. A. Eckels gave a most interesting review of the book, "The Suwannee River," by Cecile Malsch. This is a story of the life of a group of people who live in one of the great swamps in the south, in an area of 700 square miles in southern Georgia. The source of the Suwannee River is in this swamp, from which it flows 240 miles through Florida to its mouth in the Gulf of Mexico.

The lives of the people in this locality, a high Anglo-Saxon type, though greatly restricted in education and modern advantages by reason of their inaccessible habitat, their characteristics and the dangers and limitations of their surroundings, formed the basis of a tale, strange but fascinating. The guest speaker for the day, Owen P. Fox, city forester, brought to the members of the department high lights on the needs of the winter birds, both as regards food and protection. As always, Mr. Fox was an interesting speaker, and many plans for more intelligent care of the birds through the winter will result from his talk.

Mrs. Agnew then sang another solo, "I Know A Lovely Garden," after which tea was served from a daintily appointed tea table with Mrs. Arthur B. Foster, president of the Women's club, pouring. The guests partook of tea and dainty sandwiches and cakes, served by the tea committee, Mrs. Charles Wetlich, Mrs. R. G. Bick, Mrs. B. M. Mott and Mrs. Shaffer.

The December meeting of Conservation and Gardens department promises to be of special interest. At this meeting, Mrs. Dan Pyles, president of the Garden Center of Youngstown, is expected to speak on "Christmas Evergreens and Decorations," with illustrations. The hostesses will be Mrs. Harold R. McCulloch, Walmo, and the meeting will be on Monday, December 12, at two o'clock.

Plans were made to hold the next meeting at the home of Mrs. Huling, Grandview avenue, in two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wirtz, of the Harbor road, were honored at a family dinner in their home Friday evening in celebration of their 32nd wedding anniversary. Places were set for 13 guests at a table tastefully decorated for the occasion, with beautiful mums as the centerpiece, and a delicious chicken dinner was served by Miss Mary Wirtz, assisted by Mrs. Ann Palmer. The later evening was passed with card playing and chat. Tasty sandwiches were served late in the evening. A lovely gift was presented by the family to Mrs. Wirtz.

S. H. S. Meeting

Mrs. Carol Reider entertained members of the S. H. S. club at her home on Hazel street on Wednesday evening. Her mother, Mrs. Kurt Hutehison was a special guest.

Games of cards proved the popular pastime and the prizes were awarded to Mrs. Sue Saeson and Mrs. Marie Reider. At a later hour the hostesses served a tasty lunch at a long table, assisted by Mrs. Margaret Huffner and Mrs. Estelle Reider.

November 23 is the date of the next meeting to be with Mrs. Sue Saeson and Mrs. Margaret Huffner in East Brook.

After the serving of a tasty dinner, games of bridge were enjoyed and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Louis Hazen and Katherine Boston. The "galloper" award was given to Mrs. Howard Reynolds.

LATORRE-MORELL WEDDING IN CHURCH

On Wednesday in St. Vitus church and in the presence of an assemblage of guests numbering several hundred, Miss Jennie Frances Latorre, daughter of Mrs. Mary Latorre, 908 South Mercer street, became the bride of Thomas D. Morell, son of Mrs. Antonette Morell of Struthers, O., at an impressive wedding ceremony.

The Rev. Fr. DeMila officiated with the single ring service.

For her wedding the bride was lovely in a gown of white satin, patterned on Colonial lines, with long train. Her veil of tulle was caught with a crown of orange blossoms. Entering the church, she carried a white prayer book with mother of pearl cover, a gift of the groom. Attached were streamers knotted with bits of fern and orange blossoms. When leaving the church, however, the bride held a quincey Colonial bouquet.

Miss Jennie DeCarbo, close friend of the bride, was her maid of honor, and she wore a peacock blue moire dress with dubonnet accessories. A crown of matching flowers encircled her head, and falling from it was a shoulder length dubonnet veil. She carried a Colonial bouquet.

John Marshall of Hillsville served as best man.

Those who were bridesmaids also presented a lovely picture in their gowns, made identical, of the new rayon moire, trimmed in dubonnet chiffon. The skirts were ice length and full, and the neckline was finished off with a Queen Anna collar. Each carried a Colonial bouquet with matching streamers. In this group were Marietta Morell, sister of the groom, of Struthers, O.; Nellie Zingaro, Caroline Cubellis, Loreta Leonelli, Ida Antonio, Martha Paglia, Mary Bertolino and Anna Diana, all of New Castle. There were no ushers.

Mrs. Frank Colao, organist, provided appropriate musical selections, and the altar was embellished with an abundance of mums, ferns and palms, set off in the glow of lighted Cathedral candles.

Especially touchdown was the presentation of the statue the "Blessed Virgin Mary" to the bride, while at the altar, as a token from the Young Ladies Sodality of St. Vitus church, of which organization she has been president for the past three years.

A wedding dinner followed at a downtown tea room, with covers marking for only the immediate families of the couple, numbering 75. A reception was held in the evening at the Tigers club hall. Following the couple departed on a three weeks wedding trip to Florida and other southern points.

The bride is a graduate of New Castle high school in the year of 1934, and he, a graduate of Struthers high in 1930, is affiliated with the Struthers Auto Sales company.

Guests were present from Baltimore, Md.; Lowellville, O.; Struthers, O.; Hillsville, Pittsburgh, Youngstown, O., and Campbell, O.

Amity Class Guests

Miss Mildred Connerly was a pleasing hostess on Wednesday evening when she entertained members of the Amity Class of the Nazarene church at her home in Walmo.

At 7, a delicious chicken dinner was served to the twenty-five guests. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Charles C. Hoover, Everett Downing and Mrs. Victor Connerly.

The affair was also to honor Mrs. J. Ryan, nee Roberta Kerr, a bride of recent date. She was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

Various games and informal pastimes were enjoyed and the evening was cleverly climaxed with an entertaining "mock wedding." The actors were Hazel Fraley, Everett Downing and Oly Smith.

Special guests were Mae Hammond, Everett Downing and Oly Smith.

Miss Dorothy McKee will receive members at their home in Highland avenue for the next assembly.

N. C. T. Motors To Sharon

The N. C. T. club members motored to Sharon, last evening to hold their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Earl E. Keeler.

Bridge was the main diversion, with prizes going to Mrs. Albert Jones and Mrs. Louis Leddy.

A special guest was Mr. Jack Haupt, a former member of the club. At a late hour, a delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Albert Flick.

In two weeks the club will meet with Mrs. Louis Leddy of Highland avenue.

Beulah Heaton Guild

Members of the Beulah Heaton Guild met at the home of Darlene Hoyland, Leasure avenue, on Tuesday evening. Miss Mildred Kuhn was co-hostess on this occasion.

Games were enjoyed by the group, and following the special guest, Winifred Hunter, rendered a few piano solos.

At a later hour the hostesses served a dainty luncheon.

The next meeting will be held on December 13.

Pins And Needles Meeting

Members of the Pins and Needles club met at the Ours hall on Wednesday evening. A business session was held at which time it was decided that the Christmas party will be on December 14 at the hall.

The committee for the party consists of Josephine Tardio, Anna Galliano, Anna Colella and Lena Costa. After the business session, the remainder of the time was spent with the various groups sewing.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TRAIN CHILD TO SHARE CHORES

Any mother who conscientiously cares for one or several young children has no easy task. Few fathers realize this fact.

Many a mother must save and scrape to make ends meet. Her worry over finances adds to her burdens. Some, bless their hearts, must work away from home all day and come home weary at night and do another day's work. It is hard for them to give their best to the children. Besides they have anxieties by day over the safety of these children.

Don't Have Help

But there also are thousands of mothers whose burdens are heavier than they need to be because they do not have so much domestic help or modern equipment as the family income warrants.

In making up the family budget, the average father is not disposed to assist enough to wife-saving. Many a mother does not demand it because she fears she might seem selfish if she did.

It is on the farm, as a rule, where expenditures on modern equipment and on domestic help are most often unreasonably low. Some farmers have far better equipment in their barns and pig pens and chicken coops than in their kitchens.

Another Way

There's another way to save urban and rural mothers without spending money. This is by training children, boys as well as girls, as soon as they are old enough, to help about the house. This training not only saves the mother who, therefore, can be more useful to the children, and live longer and more happily, but also cultivates good moral character in the child. I can think of no finer character education for the growing child than for him to have regular jobs about the home which he learns to do well without undue supervision.

Even in the well-to-do city home there are opportunities to train the child to share in family duties and to relieve the mother of many responsibilities. Though the house were so mechanized as to be operated almost solely by buttons, someone will have to press these buttons. Why should not children learn to take over such responsibilities?

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

MARK TWAIN
There are a great many Mark Twain stories. I ran across two the other day which I had never heard before.

It seems that he was constantly working up reminiscences that belonged to somebody else's experiences, so as not to offend those people who insisted that they had known his mother and father in Boston, New York, San Francisco and almost every other city which tried to claim him as a native son.

One day, in New York, following a speech he had given, a young man pressed forward and said: "My mother is always talking of you. She holds you in high esteem, although, as she says, she never taught in her school in Elmira, N. Y., you were the most troublesome."

"Well," replied the great humorist, "those were my last school days, and through long experience of being troublesome, I had reached the summit by that time, because I was more than thirty-three years old."

It will be remembered that Mr. Clemens made lecturing tours and in the early days of that occupation he arrived early in the afternoon in a town where he was to speak in the evening.

Seeing that the evening lecture was poorly billed, he stopped in at the general store and addressing the proprietor said:

"Good afternoon, friend, any entertainment here tonight to help a stranger while away his evening?"

The storekeeper straightened up, wiped his hands on his apron and said: "I expect there is going to be a lecture—I have been scolding eggs all day."

HINTS and DINTS

Sun sets tonight 4:13. Sun rises tomorrow 6:48.

The trouble with some birds is that they do not know what they are until some one tells them—and then they seem ashamed of it.

The man who steps into a bus and thinks he is in a lunch wagon is liable to end up anywhere.

A lot of the alleged progressive politicians only want to progress in the direction where it will do them the most good.

TODAY'S STORYETTE
A professor was taking the class for chemistry. In front of him he had a bowl containing some bubbling liquid.

"Now, boys," he said, "when I've dropped a silver coin into this acid, will it dissolve?"

"No," replied a smart boy, "because if it would you wouldn't drop it in."

His Hum says it doesn't interest him that the country's turkey crop is 20 million, so much as it does where he is going to get his.

A bird in California has made a ball of string that weighs 525 pounds, just by picking up the loose ends he has found lying around. It would reach a distance of 132 miles if laid knot to knot. All he has been trying to do is to string something.

Rastus—Ah heah's you's bin pretty sick, Sambo.

Sambo—Yeah, man; Ise bin so sick I looked in the dead list ebbery night foh mah own name.

From now on all some people will try to do will be to make Santa Claus the most popular man in the country. We mean the one with whiskers on and who may have lost his deer and sleigh during the depression.

John—They say that in time people who live together get to look exactly alike.

Mabel—Then if you ever had any idea of proposing just forget it. The answer would be no.

No real American will object to make this country safe from the attacks of foreign foes. Our really great danger seems to be from the ones already here trying to raise hell.

It looks as if the Democrats will not continue that campaign song, "Oh, Promise Me."

Frank—You're the only girl in the whole world for me.

Sylvia—Nonsense; only one man ever said that and told the truth.

Frank—Who was it?

Sylvia—Adam.

There are people who can say "no" over the telephone better than any other way. When you have something important meet them face to face.

Storekeeper—What kind of soap do you want, my boy?

Henry—Just any kind that's got lots of perfume in it so's Ma kin smell it and won't make me wash all over again.

Another advantage of a large family is the increased probability of having someone at breakfast who isn't grouchy.

A democracy can't have military secrets. It must tell the people its needs and plans and win their approval to get the money.

What's What At A Glance

Taft And Dewey Look Good
Are Mentioned For 1940 Race
Taft Held Abler Than Father

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 17.—Republican headquarters strategists already are suggesting Taft and Dewey for a good G. O. P. ticket in 1940. If Dewey had beaten Governor Lehman in New York of course he would be the one to be mentioned for first place. In that event Taft probably wouldn't be getting any mention at all. Dewey and Taft wouldn't sound so well. Dewey is so young that Taft would be placed in rather an undignified position as a tail to the Dewey kite. And it isn't desirable to have anything undignified about a presidential-and-vice-presidential combination. Taft and Dewey, however, would be absolutely all right.

Robert A. Taft is of adequately mature White House years. He has plenty of standing and historic background. Some folk say he's abler than his father was—and the latter had ability enough, even though he didn't make a very successful president. Robert A. comes from an excellent presidential state, too. Ohio isn't quite the equal of New York or Pennsylvania in a political sense, but it's big enough and its geography and record are quite o.k. Moreover, Taft liked a sitting senator, Robert J. Bulkley, who was a strong candidate; a highly creditable performance.

Dewey's Race Close
Yes, Taft won, which Dewey didn't. Yet Dewey lost by so narrow a margin, against the most formidable opponent the Democrats could put up to fight him, that his defeat was a near-victory. He can be a handy tail to Taft's kite.

The mighty states of Ohio and New York hooked up together; Midwest and the east and the farther western sticks (for Dewey, now a New Yorker, originally hailed from Michigan) aligned. Wise middle age (Taft's) and fiery youth (Dewey's) in partnership! It's almost an ideal combination.

Nevertheless, 1940 is quite a distance ahead.

The Republicans gained considerable ground the other day, but the off-party nearly always does in midterm elections. There's more than a chance that the Democrats' losses will tend to consolidate the survivors.

Besides, it's the consensus of political opinion—including Republican opinion—that November 8's result doesn't signify much diminution in President Roosevelt's personal popularity. It's the old story: "We don't like his methods, but we do like his objectives."

When it comes to 1940 the "solid south" evidently will be as Democratically solid as usual. It may be anti-New Deal in Congress, but it shows no indications of turning Republican at the polls. If there's a decisive switch in party voting sentiment in 1940 it will have to be north of the Mason-Dixon line. And it will have to be a mighty formidable switch to upset President Roosevelt, should he run again. But suppose he doesn't run again? Ah, that would be different. I'd surmise that he'd HAVE to run again. Well, a third term campaign must be a count against him. He never can be re-elected as overwhelmingly as he won in 1932 and 1936, but I'd guess he'd win. Perhaps if he does re-run and re-win, he'll have unqualifiedly hostile Congresses against him. But I'm betting that he'll be popularly powerful all the same.

City Folks' Lunkheadedness
Before the last election most newspaper prophets talked of Republican versus Democratic "weather."

The theory is that the average farmer is a Republican. If the weather's bad he stays home on election day, the roads into town are muddy and he gets wet.

This used to be true.

Now he piles out into a nice, water-proof automobile, drives to the polls over a concrete road, picks up some neighbors on the way, and they all cast their ballots and get back home comfortably in less than the time they used to spend in mudding up a team.

Having to hire a taxi, the "city folks" vote costs him something. Does the farmer vote? He does, seriously. Think of our literature about Santa Claus.

Tourist—Don't stand there like a fool, man. Run and get the village doctor.

Native—Sorry, Mister, that's him you just run over.

Every molecule here in the beginning is all here in some state. Atoms from Babylon's walls may be in this printed page.

The great mystery of man is his moral sense. Need and desire prompt all development. Would a wolf deliberately develop a trait that interfered with his hunting?

Science overcomes superstition. If it also destroys a man's religion, he had no religion except superstition.

HOUSING AND OWNERSHIP

FROM Morton Bodfish, executive vice president of the United States Building and Loan League, comes a warning that housing programs should not be divorced from home ownership.

"No matter how fine the rented apartment may be or the housing that a benevolent government may provide," he says, "the owner-occupied home, well located, well built and paid for, constitutes an 'island of safety' for the individual and those who are important to him."

All too many of the housing projects have been conceived from the renting rather than from the ownership angle. In consequence, little if anything has been done to encourage home building for the benefit of those persons who, though in the relatively low income groups, have always wanted to own their homes and thus gain the advantages of domestic independence.

It will be a good thing for America's housing "authorities" to consider the point made by Mr. Bodfish. To make this nation a land of home owners would be to strengthen democracy in an extremely vital way.

GENERAL MOTORS SOCIAL SECURITY PLAN

The wage stabilization plan adopted by the General Motors Corporation for its 150,000 hourly-paid workers represents a great step forward in providing job security for wage-earners, and in promoting better relations between employers and employees—objectives of utmost value in industry.

Frankly experimental and involving considerable outlay on the part of the company, the plan is undeniably enlightened and liberal, and its operation will be watched with great interest. It is noteworthy that the program, which may shortly be expanded to include 37,000 salaried workers, does not guarantee work for which there is no need. Neither does it withhold from the worker any pay earned in periods of normal or better than normal employment to make up subsequent bad-times shortage.

The corporation is to take care of the financing through a reserve fund set up for the purpose. In slack periods the corporation is to contribute to the worker's pay from the reserve. This advance is to be made on the request of the employee. It is not a liability in the ordinary sense, is payable only through work and bears no interest.

Under the plan those employees with five or more years of service will be assured of a weekly income in 1939 of not less than 60 per cent of their standard weekly earnings. Those with two or more years' service record will be entitled to a weekly 40 per cent minimum.

If a man in the first group should have a standard weekly wage of $40, for example, he will continue to receive 60 per cent of that amount, in case of shutdown. When work is resumed he will receive half the difference between $24 and $40, until the company's advance has been repaid in work hours. If work advances his weekly hours of employment, with time and a half for overtime, his pay increases correspondingly.

The plan is designed to level off the peaks and valleys of industrial employment and wages. It would give workers affected by it definite assurance of a substantial weekly minimum income for a definite period. It would remove from them the overhanging fear of lost earnings during shut-downs and slack times.

TRADE BARRIERS BETWEEN STATES

The anomalous situation created by the erection of trade barriers between States is to be brought to the attention of the new Congress, although apparently the States have found a way of getting around the provision prohibiting them from levying tariffs.

Since the World War twenty-three States have granted preferences to their own products and building materials when making purchases or awarding contracts for public works. Some States even bar importation of citrus fruits produced in other States. Milk produced in adjoining States is also embargoed by health regulations requiring inspection of farms. This is made effective by refusing to send inspectors outside the State.

The most striking manifestation of this trend is the setting up of virtual ports of entry at State boundaries where taxes, virtually customs duties, are imposed on articles purchased elsewhere and brought into the State. Kansas alone has 66 guarded ports of entry—more than are operated by the Federal Government.

The New Deal Administration has promoted centralization of government to a greater extent than any of its predecessors. It is, perhaps, not strange that the States, in insisting on their rights, should now proceed to undesirable extremes. But the obstacles they are putting in the path of a free nation-wide market may prove harmful to their own interests. Eventual realization of this fact may tend to break down these artificial barriers.

All we want is education without study, wealth without earning it, and fame without years of hard work.

There's small choice. If you drive too fast, you hit something out in front; if you drive safely, they crack you from behind.

Some legislators are unselfish and generous. They help business in other states by making laws to cripple and handicap business in their own.

Hints On Etiquette

"Accidents will happen" at the table, as elsewhere. If you drop something—spoon, fork, knife, napkin—in a restaurant or in a home where there are servants, let it lie until the servant or waiter picks it up. If there are no servants or waiters, pick it up yourself if you can without inconvenience to others. There is no need to be embarrassed about it.

Charges Against Father Cox Are Quashed Today

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17. — The Rev. Father James R. Cox, pastor of old St. Patrick's church, today won a victory in federal court when all charges against him were quashed, by order of the court.

United States Attorney Charles P. Uhl petitioned the court to throw out the charges of using the mails in the furtherance of a lottery and the request was granted. Father Cox had been tried once on this charge but the jury disagreed.

The charges grew out of a $25,000 contest sponsored by the Pittsburgh priest about two years ago.

inspection of the marriage license docket in the office of Probationary John A. Edgar. A check of sixty licenses, taken consecutively this morning showed that in thirty-three of the cases, the contracting parties were under the ages of 25 years. In twenty-two of the thirty-three cases ages were between 21 and 22 years. Under the 25 age limit there is not much disparity in the ages of couples, but after the 30 year age limit is passed, there is usually considerable difference. For instance in the sixty cases there was one in which the man was 50 and the woman 40, and another in which the man was 41 and the woman 31. There was only one license in the sixty in which the woman was older than the man, the age of the woman being 49 and the man 47. The age ratios will run about the same throughout the year.

Plans Proceed For Police Ball

Local Man's Song Hit Will Be Featured By Orchestra At Dance

SIX POLICE ON PENSION LIST

Plans are going forward nicely for the policemen's ball, which will be staged by the local lodge of the Fraternal Order of Police in the Cathedral Thanksgiving night, according to Chairman Cecil Suber.

According to Suber, the orchestra will feature Fred Moser's latest song hit, "On a Blind Date with You." It will be sung by Miss Laconi, well-known song bird.

Not so long ago it was featured by Paul Whiteman's orchestra on the radio, and it leaped into popularity and will be sung here when the police hold their annual affair.

According to Suber there will be a prize waltz and the various dancing teachers of this city will act as judges. They are: Billie Glenn, Jean Bartoch, Mary Elizabeth Suber, Dorothea Stewart and Jacques Van Tye.

The receipts from the police ball will be devoted to the police pension fund. At present there are six policemen receiving benefits from the fund. All monies received by the police annually go to the pension fund.

Policemen are all working to make the dance this season one of the largest in the history of the department. It is expected thousands will attend the affair.

The Great Game Of Politics

alysis he could not have been elected but for the Communist vote—but it certainly does not reflect upon him any more than it will affect his conduct. Nevertheless, a useful purpose will be served in presenting the figures if it helps clarify the following facts:

First, that while few recognized New Deal leaders are Communists, all Communist leaders, as a matter of settled party policy, are temporary New Dealers.

Second, the reason for this state of affairs is the fixed belief among Communists that the New Deal fiscal policies trend toward that economic chaos in which Communism best thrives; third, that in the greatest state of the Union they were able last week to save the New Deal from disastrous defections by the professional liberals of "Red baiting" nor reputation by Mr. Roosevelt, John L. Lewis and other conspicuous New Deal leaders of their abhorrence of Communism, should prevent the people from reflecting upon the facts about this last election in New York. They are illuminating.

NOTE—It is interesting that the World Almanac gives the total vote for the Communist candidate for President in 1936 as 80,159 in the whole country.

BOARD APPOINTS RADIO COMMITTEE
Upon resolution of the New Castle School Board on Wednesday night, a committee of three was appointed to consider the offer of the authorities of radio station WKST to run a broadcasting wire into the senior high school building. The purpose is to provide an outlet for broadcasts of the senior high school band.

Acting president Clyde M. Whitaker appointed Robert Preston, Dr. W. Fullon, Jackson and A. C. Hyde to look into the matter.

"The New Colossus," a sonnet by Emma Lazarus is engraved on the pedestal of the Statue of Liberty.

Nunn's offer was read to the board at the regular business meeting. "We are holding the property at the corner of North Jefferson street and Grant street, at $42,500" said acting president Clyde M. Whitaker. "The revenue we receive at the present time is $1800 per year which is the equivalent of the school levy of 18 mills upon $100,000 valuation."

After some discussion the board rejected the offer. It is understood Mr. Nunn was acting for a client interested in the property.

A California sequoia tree has been dedicated as a living memorial to Susan B. Anthony, noted feminist and "emancipator of woman."

W. M. Nunn, local realtor, made an offer of $25,000 for the old Martin Gantz school to the New Castle School Board Wednesday night, but the offer was refused. Mr.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

CHILD'S QUESTIONS MUST BE SATISFIED

Have you ever had your little boy or girl ask you a question after question? How many of you after have a dozen such queries as, "Why is the sun so hot?" or "Where does the sun go when it gets dark?" have become a little exasperated and said, "Oh, don't ask so many questions?"

If you have never resorted to that method of obtaining a little peace, you are better than most of us I'm afraid. Don't ever do it though, even if you are really impatient at times.

This means for asking questions is really one of the best indications you could have that your child has an active mind.

I was very fortunate as a child, for my father always took time to answer my questions, no matter how silly they must have seemed. He was a busy man, a country doctor with hundreds of miles of frontier to serve, but he would take part of evening when he could just to find out what we kids wanted to know.

Another mistake parents make is giving flippant answers to their children's queries. Of if they don't know the right answer, then they tell the child anything at all. This isn't right. If you can't give the correct answer, then admit it to the young one. Admit your ignorance and tell him that you will find out for him as soon as you can. In this way you will build up within the child a trust, a belief in what you tell him.

Remember, this sometimes annoying habit of asking questions isn't just idle curiosity. It is an instinct that the human race began to develop hundreds of thousands of years ago. From the cave man back to the fifteenth century, before that, the spoken word was the only means of communication, except for a few scholars, most of whom were in monasteries. Man learned to use words so he could ask questions; so he could satisfy his curiosity; so he could gain knowledge.

When your child asks questions, therefore, he is just following an instinct that was developed in our remote ancestors when foreheads were a great deal more sloping than they are now.

Encourage your child to ask questions, for then he learns more readily. When he is old enough to read, there are encyclopedias for children; refer him to them when he asks questions. This trains him to go to the proper sources for his information.

When a person ceases asking questions, that is a sign he is old, whether he is 20 or 100. We have here in Ontario a chief justice who retired a year ago at the age of 94. But he is still young at his age he still has an inquiring mind.

Just remember when you are being pressed for information when you are trying to read the paper, that the child who doesn't ask questions doesn't learn much.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

The prescribing of drugs is mentioned in the Book of Exodus.

Quote: "An ointment compound after the art of the apothecary."

Drugs are man's readiest weapon against disease.

As late as Colonial Days they used some brave medicines.

Sodium nitrate and salt of tin for coughs, colds and smallpox.

Poke-berries for cancer, boneset for tuberculosis.

Chinese stone for rheumatism and genuine juice for boldness.

The first college of pharmacy was organized in Philadelphia.

At that moment Napoleon was taking tamar emetic for cancer.

Many ancient drugs are still being used.

First the doctor diagnoses, then gives remedial agencies.

Knowledge of drugs' effects have been accumulating forever.

The 1930 census showed a population of 122,775,046, and thus there was a possibility that the ten-year increase by the time of the regular national census-taking in 1940, would approximate 10,000,000 persons.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisons out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of energy and sleep, getting up night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Everett Hoffman Makes Book For Local Library

Amateur Artist Of City Prepares Interesting Chinese Story Book

Everett Hoffman, a senior at the New Castle High school, and one of the city's amateur artists, has prepared an excellent little Chinese picture story book for the public library here.

Hoffman presented this book to the library this week in observance of National Children's Book Week. The book is a picture story book of a little Chinese boy by the name of Lee Chang, who goes to school. On New Year's Day there is a kite race, Lee Chang flies his kite in the race and wins the prize.

Hoffman drew all of the pictures in black and white and hand lettered the text. According to Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian, this is the type of book that would appeal to the pre-school child or to the child in the first three grades of school.

The book will be for the use of the children visitors to the library, and will be on display in the children's room all during Book Week. The book is bound in professional style and is quite as serviceable as a book from a modern print shop.

Gathering Sumac Entails Dangers

One Type Is Poisonous; Some Used For Christmas Decorative Effects

Already the Christmas spirit is in the air, and many people are planning their Christmas decorations.

In the older days, most all of those decorations were taken from the woods and forests, but as the years have advanced, the conservation of nature's wild fruits and shrubs have put a stop to much of that practice. The berries of the dogwood were much used, also bitternut played a prominent part in Christmas decorations. Dogwood berries are protected and the taking of bitternut for use as decorations is robbing wild life of a very valuable winter food.

Pods of the sumac are coming into use for Christmas decorations for the making of door wreaths, but the gathering of this sumac is a dangerous process, if persons are not well acquainted with the various kinds of sumac pods.

One species, the swamp or yellow sumac, is very poisonous, and the oil emanating from any part of the tree, coming in contact with the skin, causes serious skin irritations, sometimes worse than poison ivy. The bloom of the poison sumac when ripened, is of a dark yellow color, which distinguishes the bloom from the staghorn sumac, which carries pods of deep royal purple.

Even when the poisonous sumac is burned, the smoke and fumes are laden with poisonous oil, which penetrates the clothing, causing skin eruptions like heat blisters. Much of this trouble was experienced during the construction of Pymatuning Lake, as the marshes were polluted with this poisonous tree.

Bird life's instinct prompts them to shun poison sumac.

President May Resort To Economic Reprisals For Germany

Many Demands Being Received

Future Course Of President Awaits Arrival Of Envoy From Germany

EMBARGO SECTION MAY BE INVOKED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The possibility that President Roosevelt might resort to economic reprisals against Nazi Germany to implement his moral condemnation of German racial and religious persecutions was discussed in official quarters today.

Demands for such economic measures were deluging the White House and state department from many sections of the nation.

Responsible officials, however, pursued a policy of silence regarding any future steps that might be taken in the wake of President Roosevelt's public rebuke of the Hitler government.

Wait Arrival Of Wilson
It was emphasized that formulation of decisions for the future must await the arrival late next week of American Ambassador Hugh R. Wilson, who was called home to give a personal report of the German-Jewish situation to the president. Wilson sails from Havre, France, today aboard the liner Manhattan and is scheduled to dock in New York next Thursday.

In some quarters the possibility that the president might invoke the embargo section of the 1930 tariff act against German commerce was discussed.

This clause permits application of an initial 50 per cent tariff penalty against the goods of any nation discriminating against American commerce. Outright embargo can follow if the discrimination is not removed.

Germany is already on the American "blacklist" for economic discriminations.

For Quick Cough Relief, Mix This at Home

Saves You Much Money, and It's So Easily Mixed.

Here's an old home remedy your mother used, but, for real results, it is still one of the most effective and dependable for coughs due to colds. Once tried, you'll swear by it.

It's no trouble. Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar in 1 cup water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed—a child could do it.

Now put 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of actually truly splendid cough medicine, and gives you about four times as much for your money. It keeps perfectly, tastes fine, and lasts a family a long time.

And you'll say it's really amazing, for quick action. You can feel it take hold instantly. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. No cough remedy, at any price, could be more effective.

Pinex is a compound containing Norway Pine and palatable guaracol, in concentrated form, well-known for its prompt action on throat and bronchial membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Sullivan Lands Giant Kingfish In Florida

E. L. Sullivan of this city, now vacationing at Clearwater, Fla., as-tounded sportsmen in that area this week by landing a giant kingfish from the beach pier at Clearwater. The catch was considered as quite a sporting feat and word of the local man's success quickly spread about Clearwater.

This type of fish is generally caught only from deep sea fishing boats with a heavy hand line and a large hook. Sullivan showed up the fishermen when he cast his 12-thread line and a number three hook, baited with a small sardine, into the water.

It was his hope at the time that he would pull out a fine mackerel, but to his surprise the kingfish grabbed the line. The smashing strike completely surprised Sullivan, and before he knew it a hundred yards of line had gone out with the fish.

The local man clamped down on the line with his thumb to help the drag and the line burned a channel down the middle of his thumb.

More line went out, until there was 150 yards out before the fish was turned. The giant fish was landed, worn down safely and netted for lifting to the pier.

When the fish was weighed and certified it tipped the scales at 21 pounds. According to word received here, the entire face of the successful fisherman's thumb was one big blister from his encounter with Mr. Kingfish.

The kingfish was cut into steaks, and according to the Sullivans it tastes similar to halibut, but has a finer flavor. There were enough steaks to go around to nearly all of the neighbors and still leave enough fish for the New Castleites. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan report that this is the warmest fall that they have experienced at this place, and they are enjoying it.

Naomi Conn and Sherman Samuels will play opposite one another in the senior class comedy, "Don't Ever Grow Up". They are the happy lovers without whom no modern drama is complete. They are not always happy and part of the time the love all seems to be on one side, but that is where the comedy comes in.

Both "Nomi" and "Dude" are popular and active members of the graduating class. They are on the stage a good deal of the time in the class play and will contribute largely to its assured success. Men's Mission Brings Crowds

Services Each Night This Week In St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church

TRIBUTE IS PAID TO LATE JOHN HANEY

Today at Saint Mary's church on North Beaver street, a Parish Eucharistic Congress is being celebrated as a part of the parish mission. Public Exposition of the Most Blessed Sacrament began after the second mass this morning, and will continue until the end of Benediction tonight.

The Holy Hour this evening at 7:30 will be celebrated for men only, just as the First Holy Hour in the Garden of Gethsemane was celebrated by the Lord and His three favorite apostles: Peter, James and John. The second half of the men's mission begins tonight with this Holy Hour, and even though 700 men have attended every night thus far, a larger crowd is expected for the latter half of the week.

The men making the mission were shocked to learn last evening of the death of John Haney. It so happened that Father Malachy Kain, O. P. M., had prepared to speak on the subject of Death. Those who heard Father Malachy will not forget for a long time the silence that filled the Church when he referred to the sudden departure of Mr. Haney, who was attended in the hour of death by the Reverend Father Leo Watterson.

The Reverend Father Peter J. McKenna, pastor of St. Mary's, has announced that the closing of the men's mission will take place this coming Sunday. The exact hour of the closing devotion will be published later.

Dr. Dafeo Tells Reactions Of Quintuplets Following Recent Tonsil Operations

(By ALLAN ROY DAFEO, M. D., Personal Physician to the Dionne Quintuplets.)

CALLANDER, Ont., Nov. 17.—It was a real treat to see the way the Quintuplets reacted to the recent operation on their adenoids and tonsils. I must say I was delighted at the philosophic way they have accepted the fact that we did something to them that made their throats hurt.

After they regained consciousness, all five of them called for their little toy wrist watches. I think the reason they wanted to consult those watches was because they couldn't quite figure out why it was afternoon; it had been morning when they went under the anesthetic.

Marie reacted very normally when she awakened. Of course, as you know, she was the first Quint to go on the operating table. This was because her tonsils were worse than the others. Besides, she is the most venturesome of them all, so it seemed fitting that she should lead the way.

When she came out of the ether, she opened her big eyes, and looked around. She couldn't see Cecile, so she immediately asked where "Cecile" was; when she saw that her sister was in her crib where she belonged, Marie was quite contented and dropped off to sleep.

Yvonne was very good, too. When she awakened, she immediately wanted her clothes, to go outside. In fact, she couldn't see any reason why she should stay in bed any longer, she felt so good. However, we managed to convince her that her sore throat was enough to keep her in bed for a while. So, without any further argument, she forgot about going out and asked for a glass of milk.

Before the operation, Yvonne seemed to sense that there was something in the wind, and it was almost as though she were trying to help the nurses entertain her sisters as they waited their turn. Anyway, she put on quite an act in the waiting room, and she made the nurse's job a great deal easier.

The first thing Emile did when she came to was to ask about all her friends. She went over the whole list—her father, her mother, her nurses, her teacher, her brothers and sisters. When she was assured that everyone was all right she went back to sleep again quite contented.

Cecile didn't even whimper about the hurt in her throat, like the others did. The nurse anxiously inquired how she was when she saw the eyes open. Cecile smiled and said she was fine. A little later on she asked her nurse if she couldn't have some music.

Like Emile, Annette wanted to know all about her friends. Then she gave us all a real laugh. She told us that she loved all my nice friends. By that she meant the surgeon and physicians and nurses who had come up from Toronto's Hospital for Sick Children to do the operation.

In the afternoon they got a little hungry and spent some time talking about what they wanted for supper. Then they gave their order to the nurse. Here is what all five wanted: Angel cake, orange juice, ice cream and milk. When no such supper made any appearance, the nurse told the children that I had gone to the corner store in Callander to get it.

Next day I got a surprise when I went into the nursery and found the five of them singing "There Jacques." You wouldn't ever believe that they had had their throats operated only 24 hours before.

They were really full of mischief, standing up in their cribs so they could reach the lights and they kept turning them off and on. In fact, the nurses were at their wits' end trying to keep the little girls lying down and quiet as they were supposed to be. I couldn't help but wonder how we will ever keep them in bed for ten days as we planned to do.

Stamp Collectors Hear Mercer Man

Interesting Meeting Of Philatelists Is Held In Guarard Building

There was a good attendance and an interesting program presented at the meeting of the Lawrence County Philatelic society, held Wednesday evening, in the society's club room in the Guarard building.

President Arthur O. Dunn after conducting a brief business meeting called upon Everett Wilson, a Mercer collector. Mr. Wilson spoke on his revenue collection and how it accumulated.

During the business period, George Ramsey, was named to fill the office of treasurer of the club, a post vacated sometime ago by the resignation of Ernest Crawford.

Plans were made to hold "Ladies Night" at the next meeting on December 1. A special program will be worked out for the occasion and visitors will be welcomed.

Charles Hamilton conducted an entertaining auction period. Next meeting will be held in the club rooms in the Guarard building, corner of North Mill and Falls streets.

Postpone Action On Dental Hygienist

School Board Decides To Make No Appointment At This Time

After considerable discussion on Wednesday night at the business meeting of the New Castle School Board, no action was taken upon the election of a dental hygienist for the schools. The name of Miss Laura Dudek, of 1711 South Jefferson street was presented by Dr. C. C. Green as a candidate for the job.

Several members of the board expressed themselves as being satisfied with Miss Dudek's qualifications but they felt that the added expense was not justified in view of the fact that health teachers are performing most of the duties a dental hygienist would perform.

For the present time no action was taken by the board.

J. C. PENNEY CO. INCORPORATED

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1938 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

On a side street near Madison Square Garden, an elderly man on a soap box was addressing a listless audience of a dozen men, interrupted occasionally by a querulous drunk. It was late at night, with the light crowd ebbing away in Eighth Avenue, the glare and clang of the traffic rush dying down, the old man's earnest, monotonous unrelenting voice rising higher as the tumult sank.

He and his hearers were engulfed in tall buildings and interweaving shadows as automobile lights made quick stabs into the gloom and swung away again—vast and overwhelming bulk of stone and steel, deep, pervasive night, shifting, ephemeral shadow, all of which George Bellows might have caught in a few brush strokes—all but that pleading voice. I asked my taxi-driver to stop.

The old man, neatly dressed, bareheaded, with white hair and moustache, was holding out his hands in an imploring gesture, beseeching his hearers to listen and heed. They were a sorry lot, pallid, wavering, fumbling men, one thought, aimless as windblown leaves, their faltering attention caught by any errant voice of the night. But somehow they seemed to come alive, their wits seemed to stir, they moved closer as they might gather about some warming fire of the spirit, with the old man's fervor shining in his face.

He spoke in quiet, foreign English which I could not have identified had he not told of his background. "Gentlemen," he said, "I haf to sell to you only your own America—nothing else. I haf nothing to ask you to believe in except this, your country. I am proud that it is now my country, too. You may wonder how I who scarcely know your language should come to you at night to tell you of America. I will tell you and I ask you to believe. I am already an old man when I came from Latvia ten years ago with my sons and grandchildren. All my life I am a cabinet-maker, in Latvia and Estonia. Always life was hard and always we think and hope of America. The great war made our people hungry and sad. We had not bread and we had not hope.

"One of my sons found work in the fields in Lithuania, and earned money to come to this America. He found work and sent money and another son came. So, in five years we all came and we all found work and I, today, and old man, earn full wages. We haf no debt and we are free men. I ask you to know, to believe in your heart that in this America men can be free, and if America is yet free, so the world will be free. There is no other hope—there is no other hope! I ask you to believe!"

The drunk who had been clowning and interrupting, was a well-dressed young man, who looked as if he had a good job.

"Oh! guy's screwy," he was muttering. From his half-intelligent mumbling I gathered that he was citing the huddle of sleazy men as not too convincing proof of the solvency and freedom of America, "Lotta bums—ten million of 'em," he muttered, "free to starve to death."

The old man seemed to have heard. "I know we haf trouble yet in America," he said. "Maybe there iss one here who hass no home or sons or wages or work. But if I could only make you know how it is to come here and be a man yet again! If I could only make you know what it is to haf a government of the people! If I could only make you know what it is to have your sons to learn and to work and to go and come in any place or any school or any church!"

"It is bad in all the world. The people are not bad but always there is hunger and war and taxes and some man with a gun to make you march in step and sing when there is no song in your heart, and to say how you should come and go and rise and sit and think and feel. But here it is not so. Here yet we are men if it is men we would be."

"Deep from my heart I beg of you to know what it is to be here! Me, I am 75, I go to Cooper Union and I learn in the books of America and how always it shall be wise and strong and free. If only I could make this America how it should know that it must not change, that it must not put itself in chains!"

The old man folded up his American flag, picked up his soap box, bowed to his silent audience with simple dignity and was lost in the looming shadows as one heard again the deep-throated roar of "this America."

He left with at least one hearer the "will to believe."

License Cards
Destroyed If Address Differs

Postal Heads Have Instructions
To Destroy Applications
This Year

According to Edwin McBride, superintendent of the Mahoning town branch post office, about 100 new license applications have been destroyed this year by that post office.

Instructions came on the envelope that if the address has moved, the application should be destroyed.

McBride stated today that if there is any person in the Seventh Ward area that has not yet received his license application and has moved recently and failed to report the change of address to the department of revenue, he should immediately contact the department.

Heretofore the postoffice department was more lenient with persons and would forward the applications to the known new address, but this year the department of revenue forbids this forwarding and requests that the applications be destroyed.

There is quite a penalty imposed on motorists who fail to report changes of address to the department of revenue immediately upon moving.

Combined Organizing And Educational Drive Is To Be Started

INTEND TO SWING
DOWN INTO SOUTH

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.—CIO leaders today planned a combined organizing and educational campaign designed to further numerical gains and convince the American public that the John L. Lewis unions keep their agreements and are in the American labor picture as a single entity and to stay.

Groundwork was laid in resolutions adopted publicly at the first CIO convention here, but continuous behind-the-scenes conferences sped preparations for actually putting the drive into operation.

First of all, the Lewis unions intend to swing into the industrial sections of the south with a vast organizing drive, specifically directed at low-wage industries. A conference will be held soon to set up necessary machinery, and CIO representatives from Birmingham, Atlanta, Nashville and Akron will attend to workout details.

Participating actively in the organizing work when it gets under way will be the Birmingham, Atlanta, Nashville and Akron CIO industrial union councils, and southern locals of the United Automobile, Sugar Refinery and Rubber workers.

Educational phases of the campaign, which will be nation-wide in scope, will concentrate on establishing in the minds of workers and employers alike the conviction that the CIO rests on a Democratic and firm foundation, that it is an organization to be trusted, and that it is permanent.

A resolution setting forth a CIO policy of strictest adherence to the spirit and letter of all agreements was adopted by the convention as part of the preparation for the educational campaign.

The local Rotary club is sponsoring the new organization and a club committee headed by Attorney Charles H. Young is in charge of the formation preliminaries.

Tonight the audience will hear Sylvester K. Stevens, Harrisburg, historian of the Pennsylvania Historical Commission and one of the outstanding authorities on Pennsylvania history, tell of the role historical societies fill.

Officers of the new county group will probably be elected at the meeting if it is definitely voted to proceed with organization.

Dr. C. C. Green, president of Rotary, the historical society sponsor, stressed today that "the meeting is open to all Lawrence county residents."

Christmas Vacation Period Is Changed Slightly At Board Meeting

One resignation, three transfers and one appointment were presented to the New Castle school board Wednesday night at the regular meeting.

The resignation was that of Miss Ruth Wilkison, a clerk in the superintendent's office, who resigned to be married.

The transfers were Mary Virginia Roberts from Rose avenue and Oak street to Lincoln-Griffith and Pollock schools, Myrna Donnelly from North street and Croton avenue to Rose avenue and Oak street.

The appointment was that of Miss Patricia Woods, who is put on as an apprentice clerk in the Rose avenue and Oak street schools.

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools, recommended that the school calendar be changed slightly with regard to the Christmas vacation. Instead of starting December 21 and closing January 2, the vacation period will start Thursday, December 22, and continue until Tuesday, January 3.

The change is made for the reason that New Years will be celebrated on January 2.

A revision in the number of lunch periods in senior high school was made, there now being three instead of two. To accommodate this change classes will start at 8:35 a. m. instead of 9 for those who came to take advantage of it. Those who start at 8:35 will be through at 3:07 in the afternoon. The revision will give the school the use of a number of class rooms over and above the present schedule.

The statistical report shows an enrollment of 10,438 pupils in the New Castle public schools in September with an average attendance of 10,629. The percentage of attendance was 97 with Rose avenue leading with a 99 per cent attendance.

Purchases of school supplies in the amount of $55,071.12, authorized by the business manager, was authorized to purchase 110 gallons of floor wax for use in the schools.

Auto of Michael Lupinsky, Ellwood City, Pa., was stolen from Grove street. It was found in Mesh-anook avenue this morning.

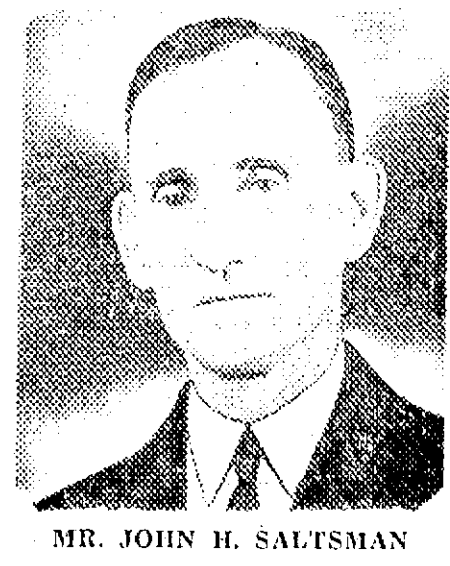

Auto of Gladstone U. Dell, 310 Pearson street, reported stolen on November 14, has been found abandoned to police reports. It was driven to East Linton street, then abandoned.

Stomach Distress A MEMORY
SINCE THIS MAN TOOK VENDOL

"I can never thank Vendol enough for all the remarkable benefits this medicine has brought," declares Mr. John H. Saltsman of Route 1, Harbor Creek, Pa. "For at least ten years I had been a victim of constipation and this brought on many disagreeable symptoms. I always had a bad taste in my mouth, tongue was coated, spots danced before my eyes and I often felt dizzy. My appetite almost disappeared and what little I ate often disagreed with my stomach by turning sour and filling me with gas. My breath was short and made me so nervous I couldn't sleep well."

"It seems Vendol was made exactly for me from the way it helped. Almost from the start, it relieved my constipation, then the other troubles that had annoyed me for years just gradually disappeared, and I haven't felt so good in ten years. Have a grand appetite but never any gas or distress, no dizziness nor bad taste and I sleep like a school boy. I heartily recommend Vendol to all."

Give this great Root, Herb and Alkaline medicine a chance to help you, too. Most all druggists sell it, and it is highly recommended here by New Castle Drug, Eckerd's and People's.

School Board Co-operating To Provide Funds For Injured Players

Co-operating with the Mahoning Bears, the New Castle School board on Wednesday night agreed to the use of the Taccart football field for a benefit game, the net proceeds to be divided among injured players of the junior high schools and the Bears.

There are five injured junior high school players and two independent players. Each of them has been under the care of physicians. It is hoped the game will be profitable enough to really help the boys.

Presenting the game Wednesday night were William Dominick and Alfonso Russo of the Bears. They agreed to police the grounds, pay for the current for the lights if the game is played at night and to turn the money over to a committee for distribution.

N. Y. Tests
Prove Women
Can Lose FAT

Ask Your Doctor If It Isn't
Good Way. Read EVERY Word

NEW YORK, N. Y. A test conducted by a prominent N. Y. physician and a nationally known newspaper woman proved there is a harmless, effective way to lose fat, if you'll only STICK TO IT and give it a fair trial.

In 40 days, 25 women lost a total of 266 lbs. EVERY woman lost fat—the average loss per woman being 11 1/2 lbs. The women first of all ate sensibly. And for proper functioning they took a little daily dose of Kruschen Salt. If you have the slightest doubt about this plan just ask your own doctor about its safety and merit.

And this is important to know: Kruschen is not just one salt as some people may ignorantly believe. Rather, it's a blend of 6 active mineral salts (see on box) which, when dissolved in water, make a beautiful mineral drink similar to the waters of famous European Spas where wealthy fat women have gone for years.

Here's the Kruschen Plan: Just take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in hot water every morning for better functioning. Go light on fatty foods, eat sweets—eat plentifully of lean meats, fresh fruits and green vegetables. Plan to do this faithfully for 26 days and you will not lose fat and feel healthier and younger.

A jar costs but a few cents and makes 5 gallons of a most highly efficient mineral health water. At Eckerd's Drug Store and druggists everywhere.

Benefit Game At Taggart Stadium On Friday Night

Wabash Bears And New Brighton Brown Bombers Will Play Night Game Here

Proceeds Go To Three Junior Highs To Help Defray Expenses Of Injured Lads

A BENEFIT football game will be played at Taggart Stadium, on Friday night under the aegis of the Wabash Bears and New Brighton Brown Bombers, champions of the Beaver Valley. General Chairman of the benefit game is Austin Coward, who will be assisted by the other two junior high grid coaches.

The game will start at 8 o'clock. Tickets are being printed today and will go on sale at the Sporting Goods store early Friday morning, also at the Wabash Bears club rooms on North Liberty street, and at the three junior high schools. The price will be 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for school children.

Pay Doctor Bills
Proceeds of the game will go to help defray the expense of injured junior high football boys this past season. There are about five boys who have had doctor bills and hospital bills.

Working in conjunction with the general committee will be Franklin R. Crisell, president of the City Football League, who has thrown the entire resources of his league back of the benefit game.

Permission to use Taggart field was obtained from the school board on Wednesday night by Skip Russo and Willie Domenick, of the Wabash Bears team.

It is hoped that a nice sum can be realized by the game for the boys who have suffered injuries.

Former High Stars
The Brown Bombers are made up of former high school stars in the Beaver Valley, from such towns as Beaver Falls, New Brighton, Monaca, Ambidge, Alquippa, and Ellwood City. The standout performer on the team is Willie Walker, a former three-year all W. P. I. A. L. backfield man who is handling the team at quarterback and can run, pass and kick.

Coach Tippy Richards and Blackie Adams will give the Bears a tough scrimmage drill today in preparation for the game. The Bears hope to have their strongest lineup available. Gabby DeCaprio will be the big threat in the Bears attack.

Pre-Season Games For Church Teams To Start Friday

Three pre-season games will be played by the New Castle Church Basketball team on Friday night at the "Y". The first game will start at 7:45.

All games will be handled by the referee association of Lawrence county. The first game will have the Central Presbyterians meeting the Madison Avenue Christians. In the second game the Greek Orthodox will battle the Second U. P. team. The third game will send the First Christians into action with the First Baptists.

Sportsmen To Meet In Bessemer, Friday

Members of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's Council will meet at 8 p. m. Friday in Bessemer. It was announced today by Secretary Brown. All members are expected to attend the meeting.

Steve Morgan To Box Here Monday

Rainey's Conqueror To Meet Ozzie Harris In Arena Ring

RETARDO, CORTEZ, ON BOXING CARD

Elmer Cortez, Ellwood City, vs. Billy Miller, Alliance; 126 pounds. Nick Retardo, Ellwood City, vs. Johnny Fletcher Pittsburgh; 135 pounds. Elo Poppo, Alliance, vs. Joe Randolph, Pittsburgh; 160 pounds. George Simms, Youngstown, vs. Fred Jones, Alliance; 135 pounds. Keggie Renault, Alliance, vs. Aron McKether, Pittsburgh; 135 pounds. Joe Devine, Alliance, vs. Earl Tipton, Pittsburgh; 145 pounds. Steve Morgan, Youngstown, vs. Ozzie Harris, Pittsburgh; 160 pounds. Harry Bobo, Pittsburgh, vs. Joe Biro, Youngstown; heavyweights.

Pittsburgh, Alliance, Youngstown and Ellwood City fighters will comprise the pugilistic calendar Monday night in The Arena. Most of them will be making their first appearance. However, on the docket is the Allegheny Mountain association A. A. U. heavyweight champion, Harry Bobo, who will box Joe Biro, Youngstown slugger-punching middleweight from Youngstown. Steve Morgan, who was knocked out by Jack Rainey in the second round of a vicious fight October 24, Harris is said to be a good slugger and because of this he was given an assignment with Steve. Nick Retardo, popular Ellwood City lad, will take on Johnny Fletcher of Pittsburgh. Retardo has been one of the most consistent battlers who has appeared on the Jefferson A. C. card. If Fletcher likes to fight it is likely Nick will accommodate him.

Simms Beat Arnett
George Simms, Youngstown, and Fred Jones, Alliance, will slug with each other in another bout at 135 pounds. Both boys are colored. Simms defeated Charlie Arnett here October 24. Like other Alliance boxers, Jones will be making his first appearance here.

Matchmaker Thomas Leach decided to use Elmer Cortez, Ellwood City, against Billy Miller, Alliance, at 126 pounds. Elmer decided Joe Cook in three rounds October 17. Like Retardo, he has a large following in Ellwood City who will accompany him to The Arena. Poppo, Randolph, Tipton and Devine will also be making their first entry here. As a rule the boys who appear here for the first time battle hard to escape themselves in the good graces of the fans, and lively battles may be anticipated again Monday night.

WILL PLAY FOR TITLE
The Catholics will play the Jeff Redskins at the Clifton Flats field at 2:30 o'clock Sunday for the little junior championship of the South Side. It was announced today. The Catholics will have such stars as Rags Gennock and Red Ross in the lineup, while the Redskins will feature Vic Cabas and Cavarese.

RYANTOWN TIGERS
The Ryantown Tigers athletic club will hold its monthly meeting at the home of Sam Salmon on West State street, tonight. A discussion of sweaters for the club will be taken up. A report by the club house committee will also be given tonight.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Clarke Hinkle, Green Bay Packers all-league fullback for the past two years and leading scorer of the country with Bucknell in 1928, became the scoring leader of the National Football league during the past week, ousting his teammate, Don Hutson, 58 points to 57. Hutson, however, regained honors as the leading pass receiver with a total of 33 catches. Bill Shepherd, Detroit halfback and the nation's leading scorer with Western Maryland in 1935, continues to lead the ground gainers, boosting his total to 443 yards. Ed Danowski, New York Giants halfback, paces the forward passers with 59 completions in 99 tosses for 717 yards and a 59 per cent efficiency average.

Fighters are globe-trotters. They must be near and far to find employment. For instance take Sammy Angott, the Washington, Pa., lightweight, who once fought as an amateur in the bowl. A few evenings ago he traveled to New Orleans to defeat Norman Quaries of Henderson, N. C. in 10 chapters. Usually fighters return and spend their purse in their home town. At least, this was the case when Jimmie Dimme's stable blazed punches throughout the United States and made one voyage to Australia. The boxers who made the trip to the Land Down Under were Tom McMahon, George Chip, Joe Chip, Babe Picato and Patsy Brannigan. George and Patsy were the chief losers. It was while in Australia that Chip was knocked out by Les Darcy. Up to that time Chip was the first to stand up and trade socks with Les Darcy. Patsy also suffered his first technical knockout in Kangaroo land, the referee stopping the bout with Frankie Hill because Brannigan sustained a deep gash across the bridge of his nose.

Another former local fighter who seen ring service across the Briney Darcy was Tony. He was in Spain scheduled to fight Georges Carpentier when the World war started in 1914. He fled to England where he boxed once or twice then returned to the United States. One of the fighters to come from Europe to box here was Willie Gradwell. He battled Battling Terry here then took on other Pennsylvania and Ohio lightweight. Another who came here was Willie Michele. He was a good one. He fought the well mixed punches with Johnny Farrar of Cleveland in Youngstown.

Rumor says Coach Tubbs will be released as coach of Iowa State because of the poor showing of the Hawkeyes this season. Harvard and North Carolina has been added to Penn's 1939 grid calendar. They will replace Columbia and Princeton. Clark Griffith of the Senators is in favor of a shorter baseball schedule. He says the early opening and late closing force teams to play in bad weather. He believes the season should be scissored two or three weeks.

"Tony hit me behind the ear coming out of a clinic. That got me dizzy. I thought he was open and tried to nail him but he got his left in just like Joe Louis did against me. This guy Galento is shrewder than he looks and he can punch, too," said Harry Thomas following his three-round technical knockout by Galento in Philadelphia, recently. Galento had Thomas down five times and when Thomas again fell to a knee the referee stopped the bout. Since then the State Athletic commission banned Thomas for his poor showing. It was Tony's first fight since recovery from pneumonia.

It appears that Bob Feller's driving of an auto is almost the equal of his delivery of throws to batters in the American league. He was arrested in Des Moines for reckless driving. A state highway patrolman said Feller was clocked at 80 miles an hour.

With football enroute to the locker room, basketball will soon make its appearance. Considerable interest is being shown by managers and members of the city basketball loop which will play in The Arena. The circuit will be composed of eight teams. Three tilts weekly will be staged. The schedule opens November 25. The teams which make up the circuit are Lens, Wabash Bears, Union Civics, Gus Panta, Keystones, Gersons, N. Y. A. and Washingtons.

New Castle high "Red" Hurricane football team returned to the practice field Wednesday afternoon after being idle for the past three days resting up from the strenuous campaign that they have gone through. The final game will be Thanksgiving Day at Sharon.

The locals came out of the Martins Ferry tilt last Saturday in tip-top shape. There were no new injuries. It is hoped that little Joe Gender can get back in shape for the Sharon game. He has not played since the Warren game.

Want Victory
Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh wants to win from Sharon and will bend all his efforts the next week to try and perfect an offensive that will fight against the big powerful Tigers team.

The New Castle-Sharon game this year should be a good one. The teams are about evenly matched. Sharon lost to Warren 21 to 0 and New Castle was toppled at Warren 12 to 0. Massillon high drubbed New Castle 52 to 7 and beat Sharon 37 to 20. You can draw your own conclusions.

It is likely that the same team that started at Ferry last week will be the one to commence the Sharon battle. However, this is only a guess and of course Phil Bridenbaugh will probably have the last word in picking the starting lineup.

RAMBLERS WANT GAME
The New Castle Ramblers would like to book a game for next Sunday with the Lockey team at the Ryantown field. The Ramblers have been practicing real hard lately for their big game with the Mustangs on November 27, for the city junior championship. If the Indies would like also to book a game, they can do so by calling 42753 and asking for James Bevan. Kennedy is the manager of the Rams.

Favor Apostoli Over Corbett In Bout On Friday

Younger Man Favored Although Corbett Won Bout On Coast Sometime Ago

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—With the betting odds as high as 2½ to 1 and reportedly, all the way to 3 to 1 for careful shoppers, Fred Apostoli today was a top-heavy favorite to beat Young Corbett, 3rd tomorrow night for the middleweight championship of San Francisco and New York.

What the odds are based on apparently is the fact that Apostoli is only 24 years old and Corbett is all of the 32 to which he confesses. The latter also has been fighting for close to two decades and some are wondering if he will be able to stand up, much less fight, from, say, the ninth or 10th round on in the 15-round battle.

Harder And Grover Turn In Best Of '38 Performances
Do Not Have To Admit Superiority Of Any Of Opposing Teams In American

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—A grand total of just two American league pitchers emerged from the last baseball campaign without having to admit the superiority of any opposing club, according to an official league release today.

They were Bob Grove of the Boston Red Sox, who broke even against the Cleveland Indians with one win and one defeat and beat all other clubs in the circuit, and Mel Harder of the Indians, who broke even with the Chicago White Sox, New York Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics and took an edge in his appearances against the rest.

In contrast to the performances of Grove and Harder, the powerful Yankees failed to come up with a single hurler who could win all of this series, although Red Ruffing and Lefty Gomez came close. Ruffing was successful against all the clubs except the Red Sox, who beat him three out of five, and Gomez bowed only to the St. Louis Browns, who took him in two out of three.

N. Y. A. Lineup Is Announced Today
Coach John Rubels of the N. Y. A. basketball team of the City league, today named the following on the roster for the season:

Pete Jameson, Jim Finnegan, Clair Hetrick, Marion Kuth, Charles Scott, Eugene Kendall and Willie Rung, all former East Brook high stars, also Harry Toscano, Bill Nolte and Dolly Hartman, former New Castle high luminaries.

The N. Y. A. is working out at the Lincoln-Garfield gym.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Tuesday night's annual football banquet, honoring the crack Bomber high class B gridiron machine, is going to be one of the biggest events in years—especially if the red and black clad team should win from Ellwood City, Saturday afternoon. Local basketball fans will have an opportunity of watching Westminster's Titans battle the New Castle Boosters, within a few weeks. Duquesne, Bethany, Geneva and Youngstown may also appear here against the newly formed local quintet coached by "Fris" Fraser.

Sports jottings. Collegiate teams winding up their season Saturday, headed for no place in particular, will give their recruits a chance. Illinois, for instance, will start seven sophomores against Chicago. "Biggie" Goldberg's idleness may cost him an All-American berth. I suppose you noticed that Notre Dame chalked up two first downs against Minnesota, Russell "Red" Evans, Southern league pitcher, who has been picked up by the Brooklyn Dodgers, was 21 games this year and was voted the most valuable player in the circuit.

Odds and ends. Joe DiMaggio returned to his fish shop in California $31,000 richer than when he departed for Yankee stadium. There is plenty of chatter about shortening the major league baseball season. Ditto about the supposed dead ball which the Yankees brought to life. The Rose Bowl game has been included in the sports flow. Minnesota, where it has room on its schedule for us.

To Billy Zinner, 912 South Jefferson street, in that last Pitt-Minnesota football game, Pitt out-rushed the Goethers 140 to 11. The Panther attempted 14 aerials, completing 2, while the Bearman machine took to the skyways 3 times, completing 2. Pitt gained 24 yards by passing while Minnesota profited to the extent of 20 yards via the airson.

In a letter to the Rambling Reporter, Frank Carver, publisher of the athletic director says: "We will play Bessemer when it has room on its schedule for us."

Slippery Rock Plays Last Game Saturday

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Nov. 17.—Coach Thompson's Rockets will play the final game on their 1938 card on Saturday when they travel to California Teachers College primed to round out a most successful season.

The Slippery Rock victory over Thiel last week-end brought their record to five wins, one scoreless tie, and two defeats.

Overconfident in last Saturday's fray, the Rockets were hard pressed to hold their one-point lead over the Tomcats and the coming engagement with California will find them more wary. The records give Slippery Rock an edge, for California lost 20-0 to Grove City and was held to a 6-6 tie by Westminster this season, while the Rockets recorded wins in both the Grover and Titan meetings.

BANQUET WILL BE DISCUSSED
A meeting of all managers and officials of the Lawrence County Baseball League will be held at the Sporting Goods Store tonight at 7 o'clock, it was announced by Secretary Jim Martin today.

Plans for the annual banquet of the league will be the chief topic of discussion.

Millions Spent On Projects In City, Throop Says

Three Years Program Has Resulted In Many Improvements Here

PLANS CALL FOR FURTHER SPENDING

Improvements made here by the city and WPA during the last three years represent an expenditure in materials and labor cost of approximately several million dollars and contemplated improvements will involve at least several million dollars additional, it was estimated at the city engineer's office today.

Three street programs, A, B and C, have been completed at a cost of approximately $250,000 each, and 10 thoroughfares on the D program, also at an approximate cost of $250,000, will be completed soon.

In addition to this cost, approximately $225,000 has been expended in the municipal airport near Parkersown Corners, route 422. Excepting for a hangar, the project will soon be completed.

The estimated cost of the Euclid avenue-North Mercer street storm sewer was placed at $200,000. Construction of the sewer has been completed between Shenango river and North Jefferson street, Neshannock township. It will finally course to North Mercer street, thence north to Englewood avenue.

The stone gutter project has required approximately $300,000, according to city engineer office reports. A large amount of gutter has been laid. This project has operated steadily despite weather conditions, it was stated.

A new restaurant was built in Cascade park. Work was under way on a comfort station there until funds became exhausted. Improvements also were made on the public square and Croton avenue.

It is proposed to improve the Big Run from the mouth to Pennsylvania avenue and this, it is estimated, will cost $250,000. This project is to alleviate possibility of floods and it is understood now only awaits approval by Washington WPA officials.

In addition to this project, there are other large jobs contemplated. So far, there remains portions of residents on 36 streets on which paving is requested. It was said this morning that the materials and labor cost on 10 streets represents an outlay of $250,000. Forty streets have been improved during the past three years.

According to City Engineer Glenn R. Throop, paving laid during the last three years represents the equivalent of 13 miles of highway at an average width of 20 feet of which 6 1/2 miles were laid this year. At present, Throop said, there is more paved street mileage than dirt mileage here.

No Shortage In Milk Supply Here

Lawrence County Has More Than Enough Cattle To Supply Local Demand

CITY CONSUMES
15,000 QUARTS

In connection with National Milk Week, which is being observed this week, it is interesting to note that Lawrence county has more than enough milk cattle to supply the local demand, and a considerable amount of what is produced in the county is shipped to points outside the district.

According to E. C. Chapman, a local dealer, the citizens of New Castle consume approximately 15,000 quarts of milk per day, which divided among its 48,000 population, is not such a startling figure. It is stated that New Castle citizens consume less than the normal amount of the country over. About 95 per cent of this amount is produced here in the county.

On the other hand, there are 12,839 milk cattle in the county, according to the last census figures, which would produce on an average, a gallon of milk or more per day, so that it can readily be seen that more milk is produced in the district than is consumed.

A large amount of Lawrence county milk is shipped to the Pittsburgh market, while some is churned into butter, and made into cheese products. There is a large milk processing plant at New Wilmington, and several small creameries scattered throughout the county which handle the surplus milk which is not consumed locally.
